recognition of Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone and his birthday was March 3rd. Mr. Bell was born in 1847.

At the close of the meeting, State and National projects were explained by the matron, Mrs. LeBaron, and then the group was broken into workshops. The younger girls were supervised by Valerie Randall and Christine Bence, cutting and sewing on pot holders. A mixed group was supervised by Doris Fearing, on weaving squares for an afghan. The small boys molded articles from clay, and the older boys started their soap carving. These are part of the projects set up by the State Grange. Another interesting project is the "Pommawonga Game", and several boys are working on this game, a National Grange project.

Barry Denham and Joann Silva were the refreshment committee, assisted by Mrs. Downing.

initial steps to organize a Citizens' Scholarship Foundation. Mr. Bristol was enthusiastic in his support of this plan as is the Old Rochester School Committee. It will be a living example of democracy in action and a uniting force for our communities. Everyone takes a part in this program which is based upon a proven Fall River Plan devised by Dr. Irving Fradkin, an optometrist.

Dr. Irving A. Fradkin of Fall River has been described by humorist and philosopher, Sam Levenson, as an "Optometrist with Vision". The founder of the Citizens' Scholarship Foundation of America, Inc., which had been known as "The Fall River Plan" has traveled the distance equal to four times around the world in this crusade for a better, more purposeful America through education. He is the foremost authority on "Grass-roots" scholarships in America, and has been hailed as a modern "Paul Revere of Education".

As President and Founder of the C.S.F., Dr. Fradkin has appeared on many television and radio programs, including the Jack Paar Tonight Show and the Arthur Godfrey Radio Program. Several national publications have written feature articles on this program, including Time Magazine, Readers Digest, Better Homes and Gardens, Ladies Home Journal, the New York Times and the New York Herald Tribune.

Sam Levenson is honorary President of the C.S.F. of A. and has given the program his whole hearted support. In his honor, the C.S.F. has established an annual essay contest which is open to students through their local C.S.F. chapters.

Dr. Fradkin is non-salaried, and has dedicated himself to aiding worthy students obtain a higher education, for he believes that these students can be the foundation upon which to build a better America. He says, "Whenever our program is properly established in a community, the number of dropouts from high school decreases and the number of students going on to technical, vocational and nursing schools, in addition to colleges, greatly increases." He feels this is his way of saying "Thank You" for the privilege of living in this great country.

Citizens' Scholarship Foundation operates completely on the local level and is a national corporation only for tax purposes and the dissemination of ideas. Each local chapter is responsible for local organization and fund raising campaigns. It does not replace existing scholarships but supplements, augments and coordinates these programs. Under the plan, the local citizen will donate the money to help finance the education of the average good student in the upper half of his class.

The success of this program depends upon the support of every citizen, every club and student in the community. It will be a dynamic force for scholarship.

Everyone is urged to attend an open meeting to be held on March 15, 1963 at the Old Rochester Regional High School at 8 P.M. Dr. Fradkin will be present at this meeting to explain the plan and to answer questions. Every civic minded citizen is invited to attend and to bring along a friend or neighbor.

students are not receiving instruction in our form of government. It is the most important subject for the continuation of our system and Mr. Sackman will find plenty of agreement and support.

A glance at the "pie" above reveals the division of the budget for 1963 at the Mattapoisett Town Meeting. The school budget accounts for more than half of the budget. This amount is set by the time of the town meeting and the only control of this part of the budget is through representatives of the various school committees. The white segment represents expenses of running the Town departments, salaries and welfare. This is a complex area which requires much study. The unfortunate delay this year in the town which permitted only a weekend of time to go over the warrant should be corrected. For the voters to be able to make an intelligent evaluation, to question and to vote in this area, requires more time for study. This segment represents 40.8% of the budget. These two areas together account for some 93% of the budget. Articles 7 through 70 (the black segment) take in all other services and equipment and total a scant 7 %. These last 63 articles, while important, have small effect on the tax rate even though they require most of the time spent in the Town Meeting. Many of these articles are of great importance in that they will directly affect the future of every citizen. Voters at the Town Meeting make the laws that will control their own freedom. This is serious and, in many cases, irreversible business that requires the utmost deliberation and caution. With the Federal and State governments committed to deficit financing, with both reaching for more power and control over local affairs, it is only in Town Meeting that financial responsibility can be maintained and home rule can be defended. Federal or State grants should be viewed with the utmost suspicion for they are seldom "free". We are not the United Nations, Asia or Africa. When we receive Federal money, invariably we give up control of our own affairs. With this in mind, it is vital that the people of the town be given all of the facts and all of the alternatives when voting to accept such grants. Past experience, if nothing more, should indicate that the least costly government is the local government under the direct control of the townspeople. Every effort to remove home control must be resisted no matter how attractive the incentive.

Henry Barstow, Wilson Barstow, Thomas Nelson.

Notes: This was a completely new Board of Selectmen. Mr. Holmes served for the next six years, after which he sold his half of the Holmes Shipyard to his brother Jonathan, moved to New Bedford, and started the Holmes Coal Co. Capt. Cross served for the next 20 years, and Mr. Barstow for 27 years--until 1890. Mr. Holmes and Mr. Barstow were shipyard owners. Capt. Cross (lived Oliver house on lower North St.) was a retired whaling master; he had been captain of the Bark Oscar of Mattapoisett when she burned at Pearl Harbor in 1857.

Thomas Nelson, the grandfather of Mr. William N. Johnson and Mrs. Sally Hiller, lived in the house now occupied by Mrs. Hiller, and ran a thriving cabinet maker's shop in the large building at the rear. He was also the town undertaker. He served as Town Clerk from the incorporation of the town in 1857 for the next 17 years. During the four years of the Civil War, he single-handedly conducted the whole operation of recruiting and recording the soldiers for the town's quota.

had for some years run one of the shipyards at Cannonville. Then in 1849 they joined the gold-rush to California--along with over a hundred other men from the town. Upon their return they started a steam saw-mill on their Cannonville property, later moving it to the site of the Mahoney Mill on Route 6.

In his later days, Henry Barstow was thrown out of his carriage when his horse ran away. Mr. Barstow escaped serious injury, but had a mass of bruises and a broken wrist. A few days later a neighbor lady came to call.

"Why, Mr. Barstow," she exclaimed, "weren't you lucky!"

"Humph," was the reply. "A little more of that kind of luck and I'd have broken my neck."
